

Lomonosov Moscow State University
Faculty of Global Processes

GLOBALISTICS 2011

information bulletin

1. General Information

2. Globalistics 2011. Search of New Resources for International Development

2.1 Foreword from Organizing Committee

2.2 3 pillars of Gobalistics 2011

2.3 Main Goals

2.4 Conference programme

2.5 Conference Sessions

2.6 Contributing a Paper

2.7 Conference Working Languages

2.8 Informal Networking

2.9 Conference Registration Forms

2.10 Conference Registration Fees

2.11 Transport

2.12 Accommodation

2.13 Visas

2.14 Contact Details and Further Information

Moscow

General Information

Moscow

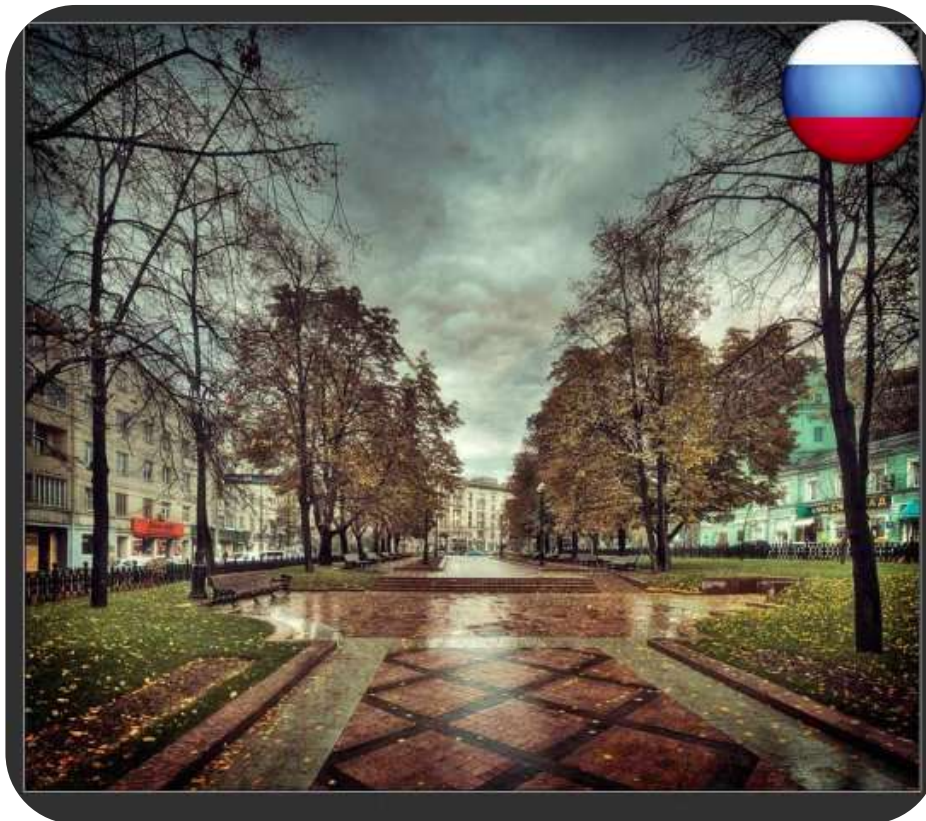

Red Square

General Information

Moscow

Gogolevskiy Avenue

General Information

Moscow

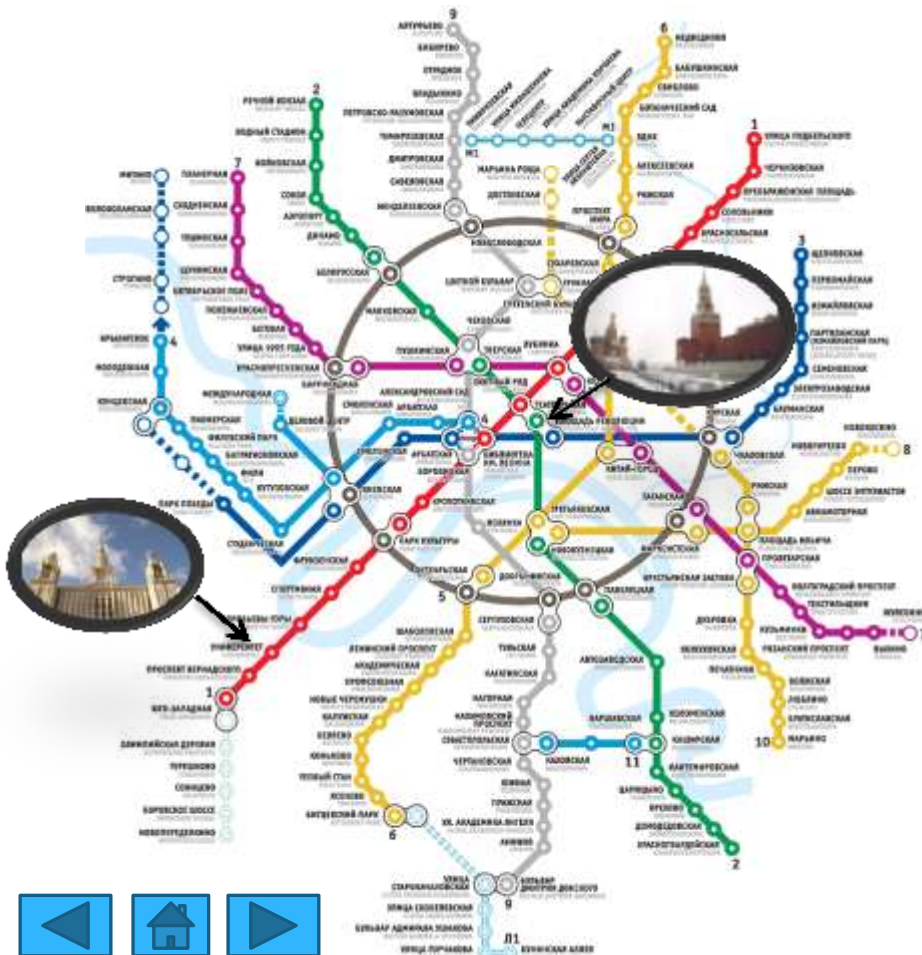

Metro Station

General Information

Moscow

Scheme of Metro

Lomonosov University's main campus is only a quick and direct 6 metro stops away from the heart of the city, with its Kremlin, Red Square and other historic landmarks, with its world-famous museums and galleries, and with world-class shopping, dining and entertainment.

The university is served by a dedicated metro station, located only a few minutes' walk from the Faculty

Lomonosov Moscow State University

General Information

Lomonosov Moscow State University

Moscow State was established in 1755. It is the oldest university in Russia.

Moscow University has at its disposal more than 600 buildings and facilities including the skyscraper on Lenin Hills, occupying over 1 million square metres. The University campus in Moscow covers 205.7 hectares.

General Information

Lomonosov Moscow State University

Moscow State was established in 1755. It is the oldest university in Russia.

General Information

Lomonosov Moscow State University

40 000 undergraduates

7 000 postgraduates

4 000 professors and lecturers

5 000 researchers work

15 000 of ancillary staff

2 000 international students and postgraduates

General Information

Campus

Campus is uniquely located on a green hill-top site on the banks of the Moscow river close to the city centre. There are many vantage points offering scenic vistas of the city.

General Information

Campus

The campus offers an impressive mix of old and new architecture, and it boasts state-of-the-art facilities for hosting international conferences.

General Information

Campus

In addition, the campus site provides all essential day-to-day facilities for international visitors, including restaurants and cafeterias, bank offices, ATMs accepting the common foreign bank cards, shops, a post office, a pharmacy, recreational facilities, and many other convenient services.

Faculty of Global Processes

FGP: Shifting the Future

The accelerating pace of globalization generates a need for new approaches to training specialists in international political and economic relations on global and regional levels.

FGP: Science

Main Principles of globalization, global problems and processes analysis:

- ✓ Harmonic Combination of humanities and General Science ;
- ✓ Wide usage of modern synthetic theories.

The main Goal of the Department-study of theoretical and methodological grounds of Global Studies and Globalistics and development of evolutionary theory of Global Studies.

FGP: Academics

curriculum

Humanities, Social and Economic sciences

Mathematics and Exact sciences

Modern languages (language proficiency is assessed by ESOL exams)

Core curriculum (Geopolitics, Global Studies)

Specialization courses

FGP: Structure

Department of Globalistics

Department of Geopolitics

Research Centre

Centre for innovations in education

FGP:UNESCO

on September, 28th
Is the day of foundation of
Moscow UNESCO Chair
«Emerging Global Social and Ethical Challenges for Large Cities and Their Population»

FGP: Leaders

The academic supervisor of the Faculty

Igor I. Abilgaziyev

The Dean of the Faculty

Ilya V. Ilyin

FGP: International activities

In order to improve language skills and provide students with an experience of the international communication the Faculty provides a wide range of various programmes including International Students' Conferences and Cultural Exchange Programmes.

FGP: International activities

Rotterdam ,Holland. 2010

Chengdu, China. 2010

Frankfurt-am-Main,
Germany. 2010

II International Scientific Congress

GLOBALISTICS – 2011: Search of New Resources for International Development

Moscow, 18 - 21 May 2011

Globalistics 2011

Organizers

Lomonosov Moscow State University

The Faculty of Global Processes

International Global Research Association with the participation of

Russian Academy of Science

Institute of Global Problems and International Relations

Russian Philosophical Society

Russian Academy of Natural Sciences

Russian Academy of Ecology

Globalistics 2011

International Committee

An Xin' an

professor of the Renmin University of China

William L J Xu-Doeve

analyst, the researcher of the financial globalization (the Netherlands)

Irene Herrmann

professor of the University of Geneva

Li Dinxin

Head of administration of Yunnan University Kunming, China;
co-director of the International Center of studying of global processes in Asian Pacific region

Globalistics 2011 International Committee

Lu Fangxian

professor and dean of the Department of Economics in Southwestern University of Finance and Economics, China

Norman Graham

professor of Michigan State University

Patrick Norwidge

professor of the SUNY, USA

Roland Robertson

professor of the University of Aberdeen in Scotland, the United Kingdom

Tamás Bauer

professor of Johann Wolfgang Goethe University,
Frankfurt-am-Main, Germany .

Globalistics 2009

1st International Scientific Congress
Globalistics – 2009:

Ways out of the Global Crisis and Models of a New World Order

that took place in May, 2009 during the time of the financial crisis of 2007-2009 and the following global recession. This once more stressed the interdependency of states in the modern world.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

The events that took place since the global financial crisis of 2007-2009 and the subsequent near-global recession have served once more to highlight the extent to which countries and regions in the world have become strongly interdependent.

Impressive efficiency gains in international transport and trade since the mid 20th century, and, more recently, rapid advances in information and communication technology have facilitated unprecedented levels of global interwovenness and interdependence.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

Economically, today, we are witnessing sustained high levels of growth in key emerging economies. These developments are reshaping international trade balances and the global terms of trade.

On the other hand, the levels of public and private debt in several major western economies have reached historically unprecedented levels. And in the aftermath of the financial crisis, we have seen a dramatic shift of the burden of risk from the financial sector to the public sector in these countries.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

The high rates of economic growth in major emerging economies also fuel the rising global demand for food, for energy, for minerals, and for other industrial and agricultural commodities.

Such economic developments contribute to the structural transformation of economic, technological and political power balances in the world.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

Hand in hand with these global economic processes, and in the face of ongoing developments in global and regional population growth and distribution, pressures on the global environment are inevitably increasing.

Associated questions of stability and sustainability, effectively relegated to the back burner after the days of the Club of Rome, have once again become key global policy issues.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

Politically, however, the matters are complex and diverse. The corporate and financial sectors continue to globalize.

And the supply chains of energy, food and other commodities increasingly defy distances and national boundaries. And so do key environmental issues.

Yet, there remains an near-universal emphasis on the importance of the notion of the sovereign nation state and on national autonomy.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

Efforts to transcend such national political boundaries in order to be able to deal effectively and efficiently with global challenges, remain fraught with difficulty.

Consequently, adequate, timely and regionally and globally well-coordinated policy responses to such challenges remain patchy.

Further, despite long-standing international efforts and despite the existence of the world of increasing global opportunities, many countries still remain ravaged by mismanagement, poverty, and local conflict.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

Socially and culturally, the picture also appears to be mixed. There are strong global developments and trends which facilitate exchange and which tend to level cultural differences.

Yet, at the same time, we see assertive counter-trends, some claiming historical roots, some novel, reinforcing social identity and stressing local uniqueness.

Globalistics 2011

Foreword

The issues of safety and security, too, have taken on new dimensions in an increasingly open, interconnected and technologically advanced world. Crime and terrorism, for instance, are less and less inhibited by national boundaries. And more and more easily, local conflicts can take on extra-territorial dimensions, affecting international relations and global stability.

Three pillars of Globalistics 2011

Policy relevance as a core consideration of the Conference.

Advance and enhance insight and understanding of the structure and dynamics of the fundamental processes which continue to shape the defining features of an increasingly interdependent world through international contributions to the programme from wide-ranging and diverse but complementary disciplinary perspectives.

Reinforce strong international collaborative networks amongst scholars in the study of global processes.

Globalistics 2011

Main Goals

The revelation, analysis, generalization and the comparative measurement of the global processes based on the juxtaposition of the points of view of the leading scientists in this sphere, who are forming the international experts network devoted to the analysis of the global socionatural tendencies.

The interdisciplinarity of global studies forms the respective scale and form of the organization of the Congress. This enables the participants to concentrate on the study of recent groundbreaking trends in the field of the global processes and problems.

We invite the specialists in the spheres of global studies from the perspective of economy, political and social studies, philosophy, geography, ecology, applied mathematics, management and other spheres of science and practice to participate in the congress.

Main Goals

The revelation, analysis, generalization and the comparative measurement of the global processes based on the juxtaposition of the points of view of the leading scientists in this sphere, who are forming the international experts network devoted to the analysis of the global socionatural tendencies.

- ❑ The interdisciplinarity of global studies forms the respective scale and form of the organization of the Congress. This enables the participants to concentrate on the study of recent groundbreaking trends in the field of the global processes and problems.
- ❑ We invite the specialists in the spheres of global studies from the perspective of economy, political and social studies, philosophy, geography, ecology, applied mathematics, management and other spheres of science and practice to participate in the congress.

Conference Preliminary Programme

Wednesday,
May 18 2011

Arrival and accommodation of nonresident and foreign participants of the Congress

Preliminary organizational meeting

Thursday,
May 19 2011

9.00 – 12.00

Check in
of the participants

12.00 – 14.00

Opening ceremony and performances.

Presentation of the results of the first stage of the accomplishment of the
Who is Who and What is What in Globalistics project

For your convenience we have also sent you a separate file with the programme!

Conference Preliminary Programme

14.00 – 18.00

SESSION 1

Philosophical problems of globalization and global processes

SESSION 2

Global problems of education and global processes specialists training:
principles, programs, job placement

SESSION 3

International and global geopolitics

SESSION 4

Global economic crisis and economic recession:
lessons, new challenges and prospects

18.00

Organization committee audience

Cultural program

Conference Preliminary Programme

Friday,
May 5 2011

10.00 – 15.30

SESSION 5

Technosphere and environment:
global geoecology and climate challenges

SESSION 6

International sociocultural developing questions.
Globalization and glocalization

SESSION 7

Math Modeling
as the Way of Global Historical Processes Study:
Strides and Prospects

SESSION 8

Global Arms: New Challenges to Sustainable Development.
Mechanisms of Guaranteeing Global Security.
Terrorism and Drug Trafficking

Conference Preliminary Programme

15.30 – 18.00

DISCUSSION

Perspectives of balance power changes and transferring to the new world order: multipolarity traits

DISCUSSION

A man in a globalizing world:
global humanitarian strategy questions

DISCUSSION

Social base of modernization: International and Russian experience.
Social and political aspects of Russian innovation and technological transfer

DISCUSSION

NGO in global development strategy elaboration

ROUND TABLE

Global problems in Asia-Pacific region:
on the way to the 2012 Summit

Evening:

Cultural programme

Conference Preliminary Programme

Saturday,
May 21 2011

9.00-13.00

SESSION 9

Megalopolises and globalizing world challenges

SESSION 10

Foresight and Other Methods for Forecasting and Studying the Future

SESSION 11

Global Studies: Tendencies, Problems, Prospects

SESSION 12

Complex Systems Analysis and Forecasting of Global Dynamics

Conference Preliminary Programme

14.00 – 16.00

PANEL DISCUSSION

Globalistics: theory, concepts, methodology

17.00-18.00

Congress summing-up and

Closing ceremony

18.30-20.00

Gala evening,
dedicated to the MSU Faculty of Global Studies anniversary, the World Day for Cultural Diversity for Dialogue and Development and the closure of the Second International Scientific Congress Globalistics-2011

Sunday,
22 May 2011

Departure of Congress guests

Globalistics 2011

On the Conference Sessions

The Sessions

Each of the twelve topical congress sessions opens with an invited presentation by a distinguished international scholar, followed by four contributed papers and a plenary discussion.

5 main panel discussions will focus on interdisciplinary problems. Moderators in a short briefing will announce issues to be discussed. To enter the panel discussion one should announce one's intention to participate during the registration.

Globalistics 2011

On the Conference Sessions

Young scholars on the Congress

As well as reports prepared by reputable scholars and scientists, each session will include presentations given by eminent research students and postgraduates. The Congress Organizing Committee regards it a priority to encourage young and upcoming academics in the field of global studies. Participating in Globalistics-2011 offers such "apprentice scientists" a unique opportunity to meet distinguished established scholars in the field from across the world. And it introduces them to a broad range of perspectives in state-of-the-art research in the field of global studies.

Globalistics 2011

Contributing a Paper

- The Organizing Committee warmly welcomes submissions for contributed papers. The emphasis of contributed papers may be on ground-breaking and insightful empirical research and policy studies, but also on data issues or on innovative methodological topics.
- In all conference papers and presentations, attention to policy relevance is strongly encouraged.
- Papers may be global in perspective. But papers exploring more local issues set in a context of globalization are equally welcome.
- The Organizing Committee hopes that some of the contributed papers will deal with the position and future of Russia in a globalizing world.

Globalistics 2011

Contributing a Paper

- There may well be interested researchers, policy analysts and policy makers involved in subjects which, in their view, are highly relevant to the study of globalization or to policy approaches to globalization, but who cannot find a good match among the conference session topics. They are nevertheless encouraged to propose a paper.
- The Organizing Committee welcomes such initiatives, and it will seriously consider these proposals. And it may, for example, decide to organize one or more additional parallel sessions to accommodate such topics.
- Students aiming to present in sessions may be nominated by a member of their faculty, but they may also apply direct without such nomination.

Globalistics 2011

Practical Guidelines for Contributed Papers

- Prospective authors must submit a 500-word abstract by 30 November 2010. Notifications of acceptance will be sent by 31 December 2010.
- The full paper must be unpublished and must not exceed 5000 words. It must be submitted not later than 31 March 2011. Because of the preparation required for the translators, unfortunately this deadline cannot be extended. Late submission of the full paper may therefore involve the designation by the Organizing Committee of a substitute author.

Globalistics 2011

Practical Guidelines for Contributed Papers

- By 30 April, authors must submit a slide presentation supporting their session presentation. This is the deadline required by the conference translators. Slide presentations must not exceed 5 slides (pages). Slide dimensions must be 4x3. A character size suitably large for auditorium presentation must be used.
- Abstract and full papers must be submitted by e-mail as editable OpenOffice.org .odt or Microsoft .doc files. Slide presentations, similarly, must be submitted by e-mail in editable .odp or .ppt format.
- To facilitate effective and proper translation, in the weeks prior to the conference, authors must be prepared to answer any e-mailed questions and requests for clarification put by the translators.

Globalistics 2011

Practical Guidelines for Contributed Papers

Selected conference papers will be eligible for publication in a special issue of the bi-annual English-language Journal of Globalization Studies, published under the auspices of the Faculty of Global Processes of Lomonosov University.

For your convenience we have also sent you separate file with the Guidelines for Contributed Papers !

Globalistics 2011

Conference Working Languages

The official working languages of the conference will be Russian and English.
Translation services will be provided if necessary.

Authors wishing to present in a major other language must notify the Organizing Committee prior to submitting an abstract. Every effort will be made to accommodate such other languages, but this cannot be guaranteed.

Globalistics 2011

Informal Networking

In addition to the formal day-time conference sessions, and in line with the well-established tradition of the Globalistics annual conference series, the Globalistics-2011 programme will again feature a comprehensive evening social programme.

Globalistics 2011

Informal Networking

This evening programme allows conference participants not only to relax and to enjoy legendary Russian hospitality.

It also enables participants to mix and meet informally, to discuss issues of mutual interest in a more personal setting, to further international co-operation and exchange, and to explore collaborative endeavours.

Globalistics 2011

Conference Registration Forms

All prospective Globalistics-2011 conference participants, both presenters of papers and other attendees, must complete a short conference registration form.

In order to be able to meet the deadline for the visa application procedure (see below), completed registration forms must be received by the Organizing Committee not later than 15 March 2011.

Prospective conference participants who do not yet have a copy of the registration form may obtain one by writing an e-mail message to the Organizing Committee.

Please see below for the conference e-mail address.

Globalistics 2011

Conference Registration Forms

Completed registration forms must be returned to the Organizing Committee as an e-mail attachment. Please see below for the conference e-mail address. To allow electronic processing, the completed registration form must remain an editable document (not encrypted or password protected).

Please note that there is a separate conference registration form for students who are interested to participate in Globalistics-2011.

Globalistics 2011

Conference Registration Fees

The prestigious annual Globalistics series of conferences are seen as a core international flagship activity of the Faculty of Global Processes. Therefore, the organization of the 2011 conference is fully sponsored by the Faculty and the University.

As a result, registration fees for the participants at Globalistics-2011 are waived.

Globalistics 2011

Transport

As the capital of the Russian Federation, Moscow is the central air transport hub for the country. The city is served by three international airports, connecting Russia with frequent flights to the major and many smaller airports around the world. In addition, these airports serve a dense network of domestic destinations.

As the need arises, the Faculty of Global Processes will endeavour to arrange for a multi-lingual student to accompany non-Russian-speaking foreign guests on- and off-campus. If requested, the Faculty will also arrange for airport pick-up and drop-off.

Globalistics 2011 Accommodation

Lomonosov University can offer low-cost on-campus hostel accommodation for conference participants.

This on-campus accommodation is characterized by relatively modest and traditional academic levels of comfort and service.

Globalistics 2011 Accommodation

However, at the same time, such accommodation offers conference participants the unique experience of lodging in the University's main building. This is a world-famous historical skyscraper located in the very centre of the campus, and designed at the time to rival New York's Empire State Building.

It is featured worldwide as one of the defining architectural landmarks of the Moscow skyline.

Globalistics 2011 Accommodation

For participants preferring more comfort, the Organizing Committee can assist in finding hotel accommodation in Moscow.

However, unfortunately the city does not have an abundance of modern hotels, and room price levels can be high to excessive.

Several of the major city hotels, however, are well located relative to stations on the metro system.

Globalistics 2011

Visas

Citizens of most foreign countries will need a visa to enter the Russian Federation.
Please consult the website of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation (www.mid.ru) for details regarding your specific country.

If you require a visa,
please read the attached file!

Globalistics 2011

Contact Details and Further Information

Organizing Committee of Globalistics-2011:

Chairman: Academician Viktor A Sadovnichiy
Rector of the University and Vice-President of the Russian Academy of Sciences

Co-chairman: Prof Igor I. Abylgaziev
Research Supervisor, Faculty of Global Processes

Members:
(to be announced)
(position)
(to be announced)
(position)

Executive Officer: Natalia Y. Zubova
Head of External Affairs, Faculty of Global Processes

Globalistics 2011

Contact Details and Further Information

Contact Details and Further Information regarding Globalistics-2011:

Telephone: + 7 495 939 4323

Fax: + 7 495 939 4323

Please clearly mark any fax messages for the attention of Globalistics-2011

E-mail: globalistika2011@gmail.com

Note: For all e-mail communication regarding Globalistics-2011, a dedicated Gmail account has been made. Gmail accounts offer good quality protection of all incoming and outgoing messages against computer viruses and other malware.

Lomonosov Moscow State University
Faculty of Global Processes

Thank You
For Your Attention!

